Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing consumption, severe coughs, croup, asthma, pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case and we consider it the duty of all druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 80,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all druggists and dealers in the United States and Canada.

Merit Will Tell.

Was never better demonstrated than when "Fryer's Abietine Remedies" were awarded diplomas at the late California State Fair at Sacramento and at the Mechanics Institute at San Francisco. W. Pinniger is agent for these celebrated "Abietine Remedies" and he offers to return your money if they do not give satisfaction. In buying, be sure the fac-simile signature of D. F. Fryer is on each, as none are genuine without it.

Good Results in Every Case.

D. A. Bradford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes that he was seriously afflicted with a severe cold for two months, and no medical remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, did so and was entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family for all common colds with great success. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this Wonderful Discovery. Trial bottle free at S. J. Hodgkinson & Co's Drug Store.

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. Instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and a bottle of Bucklen's Arctia Salve, and my leg is now sound and well." Electric Bitters are sold at 50 cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arctia Salve at 25 cents per box by S. J. Hodgkinson & Co's.

$5,000 Reward—$5,000.

The Langtry Kiss.
Mrs. Langtry has invented a kiss, says the Chicago Mail, that doubly discounts anything of the kind ever attempted by Emma Abbott. As Lady Clancarty, her husband escapes from his pursuers through an open window into her room. She stands with her back to the audience, clear down the stage near the foot-lights. The husband looks at her a moment and then rushes wildly into her arms. They both swing round and expose their profiles to the audience. Then they hold each other at arm's length. Then her bosom heaves and he pants. Then her head falls upon his breast, reclining backward. There is a crimson blush suffusing her charming face. Then he looks down at her, and she looks up at him. Then there is a perceptible pressure around the waist. Then he suddenly places his lips to hers. Then she clasps him around the head. Then there is a soft, gurgling sound, as water escaping from a kitchen sink. Then they are, as it were, glued together. Then all is still. Women in the audience become nervous. Bald-headed men are paralyzed. Men around town have their watches out timing them. One, two, three, four, five, six, seven—and then there is an explosion as if the bung had blown out of a beer barrel. It is all over. That is the Langtry kiss.

A Shocking Accident.

A shocking and probably fatal accident occurred to an Italian wood teamster yesterday afternoon on the road between Como and Dayton. No one seemed to know the man's name. Some called him Jacobs, and others Jacobini. It appears that in coming down a steep grade he "lost his brake," as the teamster says; in other words, he put out his foot for his brake and missed it. In consequence he pitched forward over the end of his wagon among the animals of his team. One of these—a mule—began kicking, and before the man could be rescued his head and face were cut and bruised in a shocking manner. His injuries, though very severe, are not necessarily dangerous. One eye was torn from the socket and was dangling on his cheek when he was picked up.

Como Notes.

The Como-Eureka folks are happy. Last Monday they struck the ore body in an upraise from the 150-foot level, which they were obliged to abandon at that level on account of water. The News Reporter says: The ore dump is now full of good milling ore; and the road from the mine to the Welter mill will be repaired as soon as possible, when the mill will start up and probably be kept running steadily. Those who operated in this old camp many years ago were always of the opinion that paying ore bodies would be discovered there. There are several mines in that district that are valuable, but it will require capital to bring them out.

A Fatal Mining Accident.

Wednesday night, about 10 o'clock, David Bertrand was instantly killed at the Chollar shaft by falling from the 800 to the 1,000 level. It appears that he was precipitated into the shaft by a misstep. He had been foreman at that mine and at the Combination shaft for some years. He was a native of Canada and about 34 years of age. When brought to the surface his body did not show any very severe bruises. The remains were brought to Conbole's undertaking establishment, South C street, about 11 o'clock last night.—Enterprise.

Dropped Her Watch.

Billy Emerson, the celebrated minstrel, and wife were passengers on yesterday's west-bound train. So says the Silver State. Up the Humboldt as the train was running at the rate of thirty miles an hour, Mrs. Emerson dropped a $250 watch off the cars. At the next station a reward was offered for the recovery of the tickler, but if the Chinese section men or an enterprising tramp should find it, it is doubtful if she ever gets it.

A Good Endorsement.

Dr. Geo. W. Miller, of Clarkson, N. Y., under date of May 21, 1883, writes: "After several months' experience in prescribing Gilmore's Aromatic Wine, I find it very beneficial as a tonic and appetizer following fevers, and in the debility of some cases consequent upon childbirth. I think it a safe and admirable tonic to use with old people. When used as a tonic I have noted marked improvement in the nearly every present leucorrhœa, or female weakness, with which so many ladies suffer." Gilmore's Aromatic Wine is a medicine, not a beverage, and is the best tonic and vitalizer known for men, women and children.

FRIDAY.....MAY 20, 1887

Since the beginning of the year there has been a steady upward movement in Rio coffee, based at first more upon the prospective smallness of the supplies of stock to be received at Rio and Santos than in a special activity in the demand, and until quite recently the demand for Rio coffee for consumption in this country has not been brisk. The advance began in Rio de Janeiro, where the operators, believing that the new crop would be much smaller than the average, began a successful speculative bull movement and for a while slowly forced the prices up.

The French operators then took hold of the market and by vigorous option buying in Harve, caused the prices to advance sharply. The influence of the Harve market and the fact that the French operators placed considerable orders for stock in New York, caused the American market to assume a much more lively appearance, and to follow the Harve and Rio markets in their upward course. The demand for consumption being moderate here, weighed heavily upon the American market, but steady advance, large option trading and strong markets in both Rio and Harve, forced the New York market into a similar position and the result has been the heaviest option trading and the most active market and the highest prices for Rio coffee ever seen in the history of the coffee trade in this country since the war. —Commercial Bulletin.

The war-specter which Mr. Bismarck so industriously and successfully conjured up, now troubles him. The aforementioned specter, with the aid of Leo XIII, gave Bismarck the victory in the recent elections, and thus far accomplished the purpose for what it was created. Its effect, however, did not stop there. The tide of emigration, which the Chancellor has been vainly attempting to stay for years past, has alarmingly increased in volume in the past month or two. The German does not like fighting any more than any other men do, especially when the fight is one which he has no practical interest in, and which, whether his country is successful or not, serves only to add to his burdens.

Mormon recruits sailing from foreign lands should be met on the shores of this continent by an impassable barrier. This polygamous relic of barbarism will be difficult to extirpate under the most favorable conditions, and well-nigh impossible if it be permitted to add to its strength by importation. The threat of Bishop Brown to overrun Idaho should not be forgotten. We want no Chinese wall around this nation, but the barbarians, beggars, criminals, and offscourings of Europe and Asia should be kept out.

There is now no probability that the real murderer of Haddock will ever pay the penalty of his crime. One miscarriage of justice too frequently leads to another and ends in immunity for guilt. It is deplorable that this awful crime should go unpunished like so many before it. Haddock fell a martyr to the cause of temperance and social reform, and as such his name will be cherished in all pure memories with those of Elijah Lovejoy and John Brown.

A good deal of bottled eloquence was wasted in the Senate at Harrisburg over the wholesale license bill, but enough of it found a resting place in the minds of the lawmakers to incorporate a section by which bottling houses will be required to have legal authority to prosecute their business.

Telephoning between New York and Philadelphia is now as easy as it was between points about a block apart a few years ago.

The Texas Train Robbery.

GALVESTON, May 18.

A San Antonio (Texas) special says: The nor' west express on the Missouri Pacific ... 44, which left this city at 7 o'clock last evening, encountered a gang of train robbers about 10 o'clock at McNeill's Station, 12 miles north of Austin. As the train slowed up at the station, the robbers to the number of twelve or fifteen, fired several volleys to intimidate the passengers. The train was held up for nearly an hour, after which it was allowed to proceed. The doors of the express car were forced open and about $4,000 taken. The messengers were compelled to throw up their hands and were ordered to hand over the cash and registered packages.

Postal Clerk Spaulding says he distinctly heard the order given by the leader: "Don't touch any of the passengers, and don't shoot any of our men." The messenger also says that he believes the men were green hands at the business.

The following particulars of the train robbery on the International and Great Northern railroad at McNeill's Station, have been learned: Twelve mounted men did the work, and they went at it with so much system, and their plans worked so well that they secured a large amount of money from the Pacific Express Company. A passenger on the train says that when the train pulled in at McNeill's Station it was found that an agent and two gentlemen were in charge of the robbers, well mounted and armed. The robbers had rolled a log in front of the engine, and the engineer and firemen were guarded by some of them while the others proceeded to fire into the top cars. The passengers were told that if they kept quiet they would not be molested. One passenger was shot in the hand and a brakeman named White had his cheek grazed by a bullet. The express agent refused to open the express car and the robbers broke open the car door and knocked the express agent down. The safe was broken open and robbed. The amount of money obtained was variously estimated at from $21,000 to $35,000. After the robbers had secured the "booty" they told the train men to roll the log off the track and they could go. After robbing the train they mounted their horses and rode away. The train was delayed only half an hour.

An Actress Killed in Colorado.

DENVER, May 19.

The sleeper on the Denver and Rio Grande Salt Lake express was derailed near Salida, at 5 o'clock this morning. Grace Leslie, the leading lady of Kate Castleton's troupe, was instantly killed. Dr. George Cox received a severe scalp wound, and Pullman Conductor Aubrey was hurt on the head and hip. The wounded were taken to the company's hospital at Salida. When 18 miles east of Salida, the sleeper Cairo, which was filled with members of the troupe, suddenly and without any apparent cause left the track and rolled down an embankment of several feet among the rocks. The car was badly wrecked, and the passengers thrown in every direction. Miss Leslie, with two or three others, being hurled through the broken side of the car or windows upon the rocks.

As soon as the passengers recovered from the surprise of the shock, they began an investigation. Miss Leslie was found lying upon the ground, dead, her spinal column broken, and a wound on her head. The Castleton company cancelled its Leadville engagement, and returned to Denver this evening. The body of Miss Leslie will be embalmed and forwarded to friends in Brooklyn, New York.

A Large Bond Call.

WASHINGTON, May 20.

Secretary Fairchild will to-day issue a call for all outstanding six per cent. bonds, amounting to about $17,000,000.

The call will mature July 1st. Circulars offering to redeem uncancelled bonds of the three per cent. loan, on presentation, have been recalled, and no more bonds will be redeemed before maturity. The Inter-State Commerce Commission have enlarged the suspensory order in the case of the Union and Southern Pacific roads, so as to include the Denver and Rio Grande.

Marquis de Mores Arrested.

NEW YORK, May 19.

Antoine Mohoa de Vallambrosa,

Marquis de Mores, well-known in connection with the National Consumers' Meat Company, and a big cattle ranch proprietor in Montana, was arrested to-day on complaint of Samuel Grimshaw, who sues to recover $20,000, charging the Marquis with fraud. He was taken before Judge Donohue, of the Supreme Court, and released on $25,000 bail.

After Trades-Unions.

CHICAGO, May 19.

A bold plan of campaign to settle the great building trades lockout by

June 1, and strike a memorable blow at trades-unionism, was set on foot here this afternoon. At a conference of delegates from every building interest in Chicago, with representatives present from the Illinois Estate Board and kindred bodies, the members of which are altogether probably 50,000 workmen, a resolution was unanimously adopted that from this time forth the signatures of the following card of principles by the employee be made a universal condition of employment by all the building interests of Chicago:

"I recognize the right of every man to decide for himself, without dictation, or interference, when he shall work or cease to work, where he shall work, for whom he shall work and for what wages he shall work."

"I recognize the absolute right of the employer to decide for himself, without interference from any source, whom he shall employ or cease to employ, to regulate and manage his business with perfect independence and freedom, provided only he deal lawfully, justly and honorably with all men."

"I recognize the absolute right of every father to have his son learn any lawful trade on a plane with his right to the knowledge of reading, writing or any other branch of learning, and should be subject to regulation only by the laws of his land."

"I hereby pledge myself, in all my relations and intercourses with my employer and fellow-workmen to maintain and live up to these principles."

A Strange Verdict.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., May 19.

John Boyd, a butcher of Rockford, one morning last Summer, deliberately murdered W. B. Jackson. Boyd was half crazed with liquor at the time. He made no attempt to escape. He was convicted of murder and sent to prison for life, leaving a wife and four children, the youngest but three days old.

Alice Boyd, the wife of the murderer, sued Christopher Post, a saloonist of Rockford, for selling her husband liquor, claiming $2,000. A verdict was rendered this morning giving the woman $8,500. The case will probably be appealed.

Another case of the same character, where a woman's husband was killed in a row and the murderer executed, is pending.

Desperate Strikers.

PITTSBURG, May 20.

A serious phase in the coke strike at Everson was developed this morning, when a mob of three hundred negroes and Hungarian miners, armed with bludgeons, suddenly appeared in the coke yard at the Jimtown works of Colonel Shoemaker. Without any warning they made a savage attack on the men engaged in drawing out coke from the ovens. Such laborers as could not escape were cruelly beaten; one man being so badly kicked that his life is despaired of. Having destroyed all movable property, the rioters marched to the works of James Cochrane & Sons and destroyed the property there. The total destruction of property will probably amount to over $50,000.

Silver to be Made a Speculative Commodity.

NEW YORK, May 19.

The movement to have silver dealt in on the floor of the Stock Exchange has progressed so far that orders have been given to print certificates for 500 and 1,000 ounces of silver, to be registered with and guaranteed by the Western National Bank, and application will be made by E. K. Willard & Co. at the next meeting of the Commissioners of the Stock Exchange to have the certificates listed. The scheme contemplates the selection of a safe deposit company, which shall issue certificates on the deposit of any amount of silver, the company charging a moderate storage rate.

A Pioneer Counterfeiter.

ELMIRA, N. Y., May 19.

Abner G. Cody, one of the most expert passers of counterfeit money in the United States, has been arrested at Painted Post. Cody is seventy-two years old. For a number of years he made his headquarters in Michigan. He had in his possession when arrested, $241 in counterfeit gold coin and a number of dies. He has been in the business since he was sixteen years old. Government officers have been hunting for him ten years without success. He has been from Maine to California working off bogus money.

An Old Soldier Kills Himself.

PHILADELPHIA, May 19.

Brigadier General Jas. L. Selfridge shot and killed himself yesterday. He was despondent on account of his sufferings from an incurable disease of the kidneys. General Selfridge's services in Federal army during the war were exceptionally brilliant. He was 62 years of age. Since the war he has held various important offices, but of late he has lived in retirement.

A Strike in Pittsburgh.

JOTTINGS.

Mrs. Alt will give her usual Saturday night soiree at Armory Hall.

Buckboards, all styles, neat, handy and durable at J. T. Longabaugh's, Reno, Nev.

J. F. Aitken's wood is the best in the market and is sold at the lowest possible price.

Kolster & Lange have just received a fresh invoice of lard, and choice breakfast bacon which they will sell cheap for cash.

John Sunderland is just in receipt of a fine "conformatuer," with which he can take the exact shape and size of your head.

In addition to a complete stock of all kinds of the best stationery, C. J. Brookins carries a fine assortment of the leading and most popular authors.

Bananas, naval oranges, Honey Lake apples, green peas and all other kinds of vegetables at E. C. Leadbetter's. His stock of coffee cannot be excelled in town.

Thomas Barnett's store is thronged every day by ladies, misses and children who have learned where to find just the kind of shoes they want.

Go to Coffin & Larcombe's if you want choice mixed pickles, chow-chow, queen olives, home-made catsup and Worcestershire sauce. They keep a full assortment.

Since J. Frazer has commenced supplying his customers with his boneless, cooked corned beef, he has been obliged to keep his big kettle boiling in order to supply the demand.

C. A. Thurston keeps neatly bound copies of all the leading American and English poets, besides all the most popular novels in sets. Try one of his imported cigars—they are fine.

The new stock of goods at Abraham Bros. is going off rapidly, and when you see a man with a neat-fitting, stylish suit of clothes on, it is a safe bet that he got them at the White House clothing emporium.

Verdict of Accidental Death.

The Coroner's jury in the inquest to ascertain the facts relating to the death of Daniel Schmitz, rendered a verdict of accidental death. No blame was attached to railway employees for the accident.

THE QUESTION OF SEWERAGE.

Colonel George Waring's View of the Question—He Imparts Valuable Information to Our Citizens.

A large number of our most prominent citizens met Colonel George Waring at Armory Hall last night, to listen to his interesting conversation on the question of sewerage. Mr. Waring is a pleasant talker, and his manner of explanation was plain and simple. He stated that he had made himself familiar with the plan, and population, of our city, and was satisfied that the time had come when the importance of a well-planned and well-constructed system of sewerage was necessary. "Now that you also realize this fact," continued Colonel Waring, "the most essential thing for consideration is the plan of sewerage for you to adopt, the size necessary and the manner of its construction. When this matter is taken hold of, you must remember that it is an expensive improvement, but one, also, that is permanent, and the sewers you are to construct are to last you for all time to come. It must be so constructed that it will never have to be changed either in regard to size or location. It must also be deep enough to give all connections with it the grade necessary for a free and rapid discharge. I am informed that the storm water does not trouble you to any great extent here, consequently you will not be compelled to make provision for a very large volume of water that comes to you in the shape of rain. But even if this was otherwise it would not be necessary to construct sewers much larger than those used for ordinary everyday purposes. If your sewers are too large you will experience great trouble in keeping them clear. The object is to have them of proper size, so that the water that flows through them will pass through in a small space, thereby enabling it to carry off all matter that passes into the sewers. Here I would suggest that you use six-inch pipe for your lateral lines and larger pipe for your main lines. My suggestions are based upon what will be required for your future and the calculation that your town will ultimately contain a population of 10,000 or more. It has been suggested that lines of sewerage be run from both sides of the river and all discharge independent of each other into the river. This plan I am confident would not suit you after its adoption, and money so expended would be virtually thrown away. My plan would be to construct two main lines, both running parallel with the river. One between the river and the railroad for the accommodation of this portion of your city, and one on the other side of the railroad for the convenience of that portion of the place. These could either be constructed so as to discharge separately, or be connected as you thought proper. My idea would be to discharge in the river somewhere in the neighborhood of the mills below your town. Or, the water discharged from your sewers could be used for irrigating purposes without any bad effects whatever arising from it. [Here the speaker cited instances where this was done and stated that no disagreeable odors were distinguishable.] The matter that finds its way into a sewer is proportionately so small compared with the water that carries it away, that it is hardly noticeable. The discharge, if so desired, could be placed below the water line in the river. The grade here is good, and by adopting the place I have suggested, you can have all the fall you want and it will be the successful basis of your sewerage for all time to come. I consider that man-holes are a detriment rather than a benefit to a sewer. The many connections you will have will give your sewers all the ventilation necessary without the adoption of man-holes. Be sure and lay your main and lateral lines deep enough to assure a good grade to all necessary connections. At times it may be necessary to flush your sewers and this can be easily done by having a connection with the English mill ditch. The discharging of your sewers into the river will not affect the stream to any noticeable extent, and nearly all the particles of matter will be devoured by the fishes. I would impress upon you the importance of selecting a first-class quality of pipe and be sure that it is not chicked or damaged in any way. Linkton's pipe is considered the best." Colonel Waring was very explicit in his remarks and took great interest in answering all questions that were propounded to him. He laid particular stress upon the fact that we were going to construct a system of sewerage, not for our town as it is, but for a place that will grow larger and larger all the time. His observation convinced him that there was a bright future in store for Reno, and that all improvements made here should be made with a view to accommodate the large population that we will in time receive. At the conclusion of Mr. Waring's remarks, Mr. Fulton thanked that gentleman on behalf of the citizens of Reno for his kindness, and the meeting adjourned.

C. S. Preble departed for Wash-worth again this morning.

Dr. Southworth's family went to Sacramento for a visit last evening.

Robert F. Morrow returned to San Francisco last night from Virginia.

Mr. Price, Superintendent of North Isle, of Tuscarora, returned home from Virginia this morning.

THE FOURTH OF JULY MEETING.

The meeting for the purpose of making arrangements for the celebration of our National holiday was well attended last night. Our best and most enterprising citizens were in attendance and the meeting was enthusiastic from beginning to end.

The spirit manifested last night shows conclusively that our people are determined to have a grand celebration and it will, without doubt, far exceed anything of a similar character that has ever taken place in Reno. All the committees that were previously appointed are to be permanent, and the managing committee now vested with the power to fill any vacancies that may occur in any of the committees. Donors who realized the importance of a grand celebration, interrupted the proceedings of the meeting and manifested their interest in the matter by the following liberal donations: C. C. Powning $20, Electric Light Co. $25, R. L. Fulton $25, W. O. H. Martin $25, O. Hartung $10, H. P. Kraus $10, Thomas Barnett $10, Sol Levy $20, M. J. Curtis $5, C. T. Bender, $20, L. D. Folsom $20, and G. W. Mapes $20. The total amount received from those of our business men present last night, is $215. This is a good start for the Finance Committee which will commence canvassing the city for contributions. It is necessary to raise about $800, and this amount will be raised without any trouble whatever. Committees, however, cannot do everything. They require all the assistance they can get, and the citizens must aid them in their labors. Every man in Reno has certain interest in this matter, and if everyone will do his duty the celebration of the coming Fourth will be long remembered by those who witness it.

SAVE YOUR MONEY, BOYS.

We have many young men in Reno who are steadily employed, everyone of whom hope to make life a success. Wealth does not make the man, but it is an essential thing in life—that is, if one is not particularly fascinated with poverty and its invariable surroundings. Some men do not care for riches, and those who don't, generally go into the newspaper business. Boys, it is the easiest matter in the world to become rich men if you commence in time and follow the proper course. It is not what you make, but what you save, that is set aside as a profit. Now, suppose you were to adopt a plan to save money by placing it in something that would insure you a safe return of the capital invested, and also a respectable interest. We will also consider that this money has been put away in small quantities and in such a way that you have hardly missed it. It has not deprived you of any innocent pleasure which you enjoy, and yet it has produced money for you that cost you no labor. This looks like a reasonable proposition, does it not? No doubt you wonder where you can find an opportunity to make such an investment. Do it right here. Place your surplus money into a town lot, and after you have paid for one, contract for another. This is a sure investment, and if you neglect to take advantage of it, the time will come when you will regret it. Reno may never be a New York or a San Francisco, but it will be much larger than it is today, and property much more valuable. This increased value will be yours if you follow this advice. Try it, boys, just for the fun of the thing, and we will talk with you about the matter ten years from now and see what you think of it.

SICKNESS AND TROUBLE IN MASON VALLEY.

A Mason Valley correspondent writes to the News Reporter as follows: It is rather sickly now about Pio Pio. Among the invalids and cadaverous-looking subjects wrapped up in overcoats on Main street last Saturday were Commissioner Little, Constable Daley and Bob Green. Mark Erway is confined to his bed. Old man Bennett was the spryest-looking man on the street.

GOOD LUCK TO HIM.

The Evening Report says: Ex-Sheriff George Brown has had some average rock from his mines in Sullivans District assayed. It figured at a fraction below $64 per ton—practically good for a starter. Everybody is button-holing George, now, and buzzing is the order of the day. George will be a millionaire yet, and not a man in town will begrudge him his good fortune.

BREVITIES.

Local and General News.

The Carson jail is empty.

A glorious shower fell here last evening.

Ormsby county people are taking hold of the fair business in earnest.

The Eberhardt-Mooror will be started up with a large quantity of ore on hand.

The property owned by Senator Stewart in Carson is now called "Stewartville."

The railroad shops at Carson are doing a great deal of work for the mills on the Carson river.

The public schools of Virginia City will hold picnic at the old Bower's mansion grounds.

Superintendent Boyle thinks he can make the North Occidental mine pay from the start.

A big force of men will be put to work on the new stock yard of the Virginia and Truckee Company, at Carson, next Monday.

People still continue to leave Eureka daily for new fields. No fewer than eighteen recently took their departure by one train.

A Missouri man says he has known catfish to leave the water and travel eight or ten miles over land merely on speculation.

The supply of first-class beef is short in California's principal cities and towns, owing to the grass crop there this season being a failure.

A Philadelphia man is going to corral sea breezes and carry them through pipes to the city and sell them to the inhabitants for so much a whiff.

At Hamilton, last Friday, Dr. Read took off the feet of Joseph M. Intri, who, it will be remembered, was badly frozen last winter near Candelaria.

There were about 800 of the quarantined cattle in Chicago killed during the month of April, of which about one-third showed traces of pleuro-pneumonia.

Sheriff Van Patten, of Lander county, offers a reward of $200 for the arrest of Refaela Bianchi, who shot and killed Giovanna Massera at the 8th instant.

An electric ball planted itself on the forward post of the pilot house of a Lake Tahoe steamer a few evenings ago, much to the discomfiture of the occupants of the boat.

Kolster & Lange have purchased the grocery and hardware store of Fred Bosch, and have restocked the same, and will keep constantly on hand a full assortment of family groceries, hardware etc.

ANOTHER NEW BUILDING.

The work of removing the old frame building known as the Opera Saloon, located on the east side of Virginia street, was commenced today. This old trap is to be replaced by a fine brick building, to be erected by C. C. Powning, and will be used for store-rooms. It is also stated that several other of the old buildings adjoining the one now being moved, will also be torn down and handsome structures for business purposes will grace that side of the street. The old rat-traps that occupy that side of Virginia street, have long marred the otherwise respectable appearance of that thoroughfare, but the flat has now gone forth and the time is not far off when the last of them will disappear and brick buildings, that will be an ornament to Reno, will adorn that block. The structure to be erected by Mr. Powning, will be thirty-five feet wide, one hundred feet deep and two stories high, and will be occupied by business men.
